

Presenter

The next seminar in the Lunch & Learn series will be delivered by Daniel Kington, from the Charity Commission. The Charity Commission is the regulating body for charities in England and Wales, working to ensure the honest and open relationship between the public and UK-based charities.

CHARITY COMMISSION
FOR ENGLAND AND WALES

Daniel has worked in the public and charity sectors for institutions such as the Department for Work and Pensions, Citizens Advice and the Charity Commission. He is a Senior Investigator at the Commission responsible for complex and high-profile statutory inquiries into charities

12:30– 1:30pm: Presentation

We will discuss the safeguarding role and responsibilities of charity trustees, examining the framework for effectively reporting issues to the regulator and other authorities. We will update delegates on action the Commission has recently taken to ensure adequate safeguarding measures across the sector, including guidance, tips and advice to trustees for effectively managing safeguarding issues in their charities.

1:30– 14:00pm: Lunch

14:00– 15:30pm: Facilitated Discussion

Logistics

Location: Capital Group, 40 Grosvenor Place, London, SW1X 7GG

Upon arrival: Please report to the Capital Group reception on the 5th floor, where you will be greeted and taken to the meeting room.

Confirmation: Places are limited so please e-mail csg@childhope.org.uk to confirm the names and emails of representatives from your organisation who will be attending. Please let us know if you have additional or dietary requirements.